New England Gas Products Co. Sues The Town Of Wilmington

BOARD OF HEALTH TRACES RABIES SUSPECT

Patrick Thibau, Town Sanitarian was gratified this week to learn that the regulations in Wilmington regarding quarantine periods and other rulings for rabid dog cases are the same as those in the city of Los Angeles.

Mr. Thibau received a call from the California city asking him to find and examine a dog that had bitten a child in California and was en route to Wilmington. After some detective work, Mr. Thibau traced the dog and quarantined it for the prescribed ten days. The child's father made three telephone calls from Whittier, Calif. for information and was finally grateful to hear that the dog was not rabid.

MANY INNOCULATION CLINICS IN MAY

Town Sanitarian Patrick Thibau reports that May will be a busy month for the Board of Health. Starting on May 4 when the Equine Encephalitis clinic will be held at Hartnett's farm on Woburn St., clinics will be held right through the month.

Third polio shots will be given starting May 7. Mr. Thibau reminds any parents who have not returned the yellow consent forms to the Board, that shots cannot be given without written consent. First and second shots are scheduled for tomorrow, May 2.

Dogs will have their day on May 18. The second whooping cough - diphtheria - tetanus clinics will be held on Tuesday, May 21.

AVCO DIVISION NAMES SCIENTIFIC RELATIONS MANAGER

LAWRENCE MASS., The appointment of Dr. Robert W. Johnston to manage scientific and technical relations of Avco's Research and Advanced Development Division was announced today by Dr. Lloyd P. Smith, division president.

Dr. Johnston will take charge of the recruitment of scientific and technical personnel, as well as internal and external education programs for scientists and engineers of the Avco division.

During part of World War II, he studied at Cornell University under the Navy V-12 training program and obtained a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering in 1946. Later he continued study in physics at that institution and was awarded a Ph. D. in 1951.

Dr. Johnston has been engaged in solid state physics research in magnetic, non-metallic, oxide materials at the Electronics Laboratory of General Electric for more than five years before joining Avco. He has published articles in Physical Review, Ceramics Age and the Journal of American Ceramic Society. Some of his patents are also in process.

He holds memberships in societies including Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, Sigma Xi, American Institute of Physics and American Physical Society. A former resident of North Syracuse, N. Y., he will make his new home in Andover.

PRELIMINARY HEARING MONDAY FOR NEGP

New Crusader Editor

Stanley J. Bocko, publisher of The Wilmington Crusader announces the appointment of Mrs. Edward Moore, of 41 Morse Ave., as Editor. Mrs. Moore has been employed for The Crusader for 18 months, as a social correspondent and feature writer.

Trial date for the court action taken by the New England Gas Products against the Board of Appeals is expected to be set at the preliminary hearing which will be held next Monday at Middlesex Superior Court-house in Cambridge. Atty. Simon Cutter, 43 Church St., will represent the New England Gas Products in their suit. Mr. Cutter is well known to residents of the town as Town Moderator.

In other recent developments in the case, a letter has been received by the Wilmington Board of Health from the Massachusetts Department of Health relative to the proposed dumping area for the residue (slaked lime) which the acetylene manufacturer would leave. The State Health Board felt that there was no danger, either to wildlife or to residents of the town, from the dumping area as proposed by the gas company. It had been feared, in some quarters, that fish in the Ipswich River might be affected by the disposal of the lime.

The suit is a result of the Board of Appeal's decision of April 4 which denied permission to the gas company to build an acetylene gas plant on land on Main St. that the company had purchased for that purpose in 1952. Strong point in favor of the gas company is believed to be the fact that they were invited by the former Town Manager and Board of Selectmen in office at the time to purchase land from the town and build here.

The contention of the Board of Appeals is that the new zoning laws invalidate the former ruling of the planning board.

Secrets of a Model

Looking glamorous is only a small part of a model's life. Aside from keeping my hairdo in style and watching my weight, I spend a lot of time taking care of my working wardrobe. Laundry is the bane of my existence.

So when we started photographing the new RCA Whirlpool combination washer-dryer, I realized it was for me.

"Just think," I told my photographer-husband, "I could toss in a load of clothes in the morning and they would be clean and dry when we got home at night."

"How much..." Hank began, but I kept talking.

"This is the most revolutionary appliance I've seen in years. It gives clothes a shower instead of a bath. And it doesn't use much more water than I use to hand-wash my nylons."

"How..." Hank tried again.

"That's another point, Hank. You're always complaining about the wet jungle of nylons in the bathroom. Well, the Whirlpool-Seeger home economists say that this appliance practically eliminates handwashing. The new filter-stream washing action adjusts to the weight of each fabric. Light-weight nylons don't absorb much water so they move slowly and get the gentle washing they require. Regular fabrics receive the more vigorous washing they need."

I paused for breath and Hank took advantage of the pause.

"How much time will it take," he sighed, "for you to make up your mind which color you want?"

"Pink!" I squealed.

Hank had my new pink washer-dryer installed today.

For the Mass, Mr. O'Keefe chanted the Gregorian Mass Easter Kyrie and the choir sang the Gloria Sanctus and Benedictus from the Mass in Honor of Our Lady of Fatima. Mr. O'Keefe again chanted all of the Proper as is prescribed for this Mass.

ST. THOMAS' BAZAAR MEETING

The first general meeting of the annual bazaar in aid of St. Thomas' Building Fund will be held Friday, May 3, at 8:30 p.m. at Villanova Hall.

We cordially welcome everyone associated with this affair in the past to attend this meeting. Furthermore, we urge all new parishioners to take part in this bazaar, as it will prove to be a welcome opportunity to become familiar with parish activities.

The splendid example of cooperation and earnest effort on the part of those associated with the bazaar over the past two years is in itself a very notable accomplishment and is a further tribute to their initiative and zeal.

Again this year we should strive to attain these same objectives and in order to do so, we must call upon the combined efforts of all concerned.

See you on the third?

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

A chaplain was conducting a service on the battlefield, during the last war. As he did so, shrapnel began to fall. Instinctively the men began to duck for cover, but the chaplain went on without a break in his voice.

He was reciting the twenty-third psalm, and was saying these words: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil." One by one the boys returned to their places, strengthened by the example of one who took seriously the words he spoke.

How many tens of thousands of people have similarly uplifted and sustained in time of need, by the words of the same Psalm: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."

In times of despair, of adversity, of temptation, sorely tired men and women have turned to the psalm, and have found peace.

We must have something greater than ourselves, to which we can cling in time of need. If we trust in ourselves, we will be disappointed. If we depend upon others, they will sooner or later fail us.

But there is one who never fails, never forsakes. In modern days, as in that day so long ago, when the street singer of Israel first spoke those lines, the anchor still holds.

"The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil."

May you, too, in your time of need, find that those deathless words, and the truth they represent, are your soul's anchor.

COLLEAGUE OF EINSTEIN LECTURES AT AVCO DIVISION

Dr. Peter J. W. Debye, Nobel Prize winner in chemistry, professor emeritus in chemistry at Cornell University, and a consultant to the Avco Research and Advanced Development Division, presented a colloquium talk today, May 1, in the lecture room at Avco's Lawrence laboratory.

His technical subject was: "Analysis of Random Structures by Radiation."

A world-renowned authority in theoretical physics and chemistry, Dr. Debye received his Ph. D. from the University of Munich, where he lectured from 1906 to 1910.

In 1911, he became professor of theoretical physics at the University of Zurich. He was succeeded at this post in 1927 by Dr. Albert Einstein.

Dr. Debye served on the faculties of six European universities before coming to the United States in 1940. He was chairman of the department of chemistry at Cornell University and is now directing a research program at that institution in the physics and chemistry of large molecules.

In addition to the Nobel Prize conferred upon him in 1936 in recognition of his original contributions in the fields of molecular structure, Dr. Debye holds honorary degrees from the universities of Liege, Brussels, Oxford, Sofia and Harvard and has received numerous scientific prizes and medals. His most recent award was the Kendall Company grant in colloid chemistry at the April meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Debye became a consultant in physics to the Avco Research and Advanced Development Division in February, 1955. His lecture open only to scientific and technical staff members of the division.

One of the outstanding advantages of a home with lumber framing and wood siding is that it can be easily and economically expanded. No one realized this more than John Tyler, 10th President of the United States.

When Tyler purchased a wood home some 30 miles from Richmond, Va., in 1842, he proceeded to more than double its size until it was 300 feet long, one room deep throughout, with the main portion two and a-half stories high. The Tyler mansion, now occupied by a grandson, is believed to be the longest dwelling in the world. But Tyler had a real need for such a large home, being the father of 14 children.

Keep Your Tonsils

The drastic step of removing the tonsils at the first sign of discomfort is now thoroughly discredited. They perform a most useful function, and it is now conceded that a child without tonsils is more susceptible to polio and respiratory diseases. Tonsils are part of the lymphatic gland network. They trap infection before it can reach the gastro-intestinal or respiratory systems. They destroy or divert such poisons into channels where their effects on the other parts of the body are diminished or nullified.

There is no organ of the body, including the tonsils and appendix, that does not have a definite function. When tonsils are infected, it does not mean they should be immediately removed, for in the majority of cases they can be saved. If the tonsils are given good care by proper hygiene, diet, elimination, and one's natural resistance to disease, they will remain healthy. The controlling power of the tonsils, as in every other part of the body, is the nervous system. Chiropractic offers a sensible solution to the problem of infected tonsils without radical removal. Conservative therapy provides a complete treatment for tonsillitis through manipulation and specific adjustment which "opens" the nerve pathways and enables the tonsils to function normally as sentinels guarding the gateway to the lungs.

Tonsillitis is only a temporary emergency that requires prompt attention, and every effort should be made to keep the tonsils intact, unless they are absolutely useless through continued infection. With the chiropractor, all reputable practitioners of the healing arts now deplore the wholesale removal of tonsils as not being wise procedure.

Lee introduced Elmer F. Sawyer, who is the manager of the new Filene's North Shore store. Sawyer, with 25 years of Filene experience behind him, was previously in charge of the Filene Shopping Center in Chestnut Hill.

Principal speaker was Filene's Personnel Director, Peter Quinn. He sketched the many areas in Filene's North Shore store beside actual selling which will offer career opportunities. He listed several of the starting assignments which would be open for boys or girls joining the organization direct from school. Among these were accessory selling, cashing, office and clerical work, stock handling, waitress assignments and the preparation of food in the restaurants. He pointed out that these were starting assignments only. "Young people can look ahead in the future to a wide variety of promotional opportunities", he said.

There are five major functional divisions wherein promotion can take place: merchandising, sales promotion and advertising, operations, control and finance and personnel. Quinn traced the long tradition of on-the-job and formal education at Filene's.

He showed the Filene Training Catalog which lists many educational courses available at Filene's. These are designed to improve performance of people in their present jobs and provide the training necessary to increase their opportunity for better jobs. "Opportunity exists with a capital O", Quinn said. "For the youngster with ambition, there is the opportunity to learn to earn and to develop skills and be happy at work".

Lincoln Filene was one of the original members of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, he pointed out. In 1909, this group had a major influence on vocational education as it is now known in America. He was also a member of the Commission of Industrial and Technical Education which gave this movement a significant start in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Quinn expressed the readiness of the Filene organization to discuss the specifics of position assignments, training plans, salary schedules and benefit programs with students interested in placement with Filene's North Shore store. He hoped that the opportunities of the store would stimulate the extension of the Distribution Education Co-operative School - Work Plan.

Samuel M. Seegal, Filene's Vice President and home owner in Rockport, expressed his conviction in the soundness of the Filene decision to open so important a store in the North Shore area. He harked back to the time one hundred years ago when William Filene first opened a store in Salem on the North Shore. In a sense, Filene's is returning as a fully matured adult to the scene of its childhood.

AL MITCHELL RECEIVES DIRECTOR'S AWARD AT VILLANOVA

St. Thomas' minstrel show was brought to a thrilling climax on Tuesday evening, when Al Mitchell was presented his director's award on the stage at Villanova Hall.

Mr. Mitchell who has directed innumerable minstrel shows in this area felt that the group he had been working with in Wilmington had "plenty on the ball". He placed his chances for the award on this show by inviting the members of the theatrical board to view the group during rehearsal. Members of the cast were not aware of quite how much confidence Mr. Mitchell had in them. They did not realize that there were board members in the audience during their rehearsal.

The award, a trophy and plaque, was presented by Rev. Father Croke. The award asserts that Mr. Mitchell is "The best director of amateur theatrics in New England during the last five years".

The excellent presentation played to a capacity house day evenings. Much credit for the success is also due all the members of the cast and the committee in charge.

Committee members include: Honorary chairman, Rev. John J. Regan, General Chairman, John F. Kenney; Secretary, Dorothy Shelley; Treasurer, George Spinney; Ticket chairman, Joseph Peters; Ad Book, Mary Quandt and Thomas Grinley; Patrons and Patronesses, Dolly Hand; Refreshments, Dee Enos; Lighting, William Smith and Louis Weaver; Lorraine Brennick, Arthur and Thomas Dromgoole, Rita Gatta, Ruth Howell, Joseph Harrington, Louis Kleynen, Harold White, John Winters and Joseph Peters, Jr.

BOOK NEWS

"Where Did You Go?"
"Out" "What Did You Do"
"Nothing"

This intriguing title will interest you if you remember how it was when you were young, and how things have deteriorated since.

Robert Paul Smith, author of "So It Doesn't Whistle," "The Time and Place," and other novels, and co-author of the play, "The Tender Trap," feels that children have their time too regimented these days, and this book covers his feelings thoroughly. So, if you like Tom Swift better than Captain Video; if you know enough to call marbles "jimmies"; if you think mumble-peg is a better game than canasta; if you ever called stealing "looting"; if your school principal was twenty-three feet tall, and had eyes like Bunsen burners; if you ever believed the Grownup was the Natural Enemy of the Child; if you ever collected horse chestnuts, round stones, or bruises; if you remember when it was thought more important for a kid to understand than to be "understood", if, in brief, you were ever a kid puzzled by grownups and are now a grownup puzzled by kids, this book is for you.

Several very timely books have been added to our list. Among them is: "Nine Who Survived Hiroshima and Nagasaki", by Robert Trumbull, the story of nine men who lived through the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, only to be bombed again at Nagasaki three days later.

The impact of this epic story, as told by Robert Trumbull, is tremendous. To know what these men endured, and how they survived is important for us all. Also new is "Adenauer - His Authorized Biography" by Paul Weymar, the full and inspiring story of a man whose strong character, capacity for hard work, acute understanding of the complexities of politics, and unshakeable faith in himself, his fellow man and God have sustained him through terrible trials to the great triumphs of his later years.

In "100 Hours to Suez" by Robert Henriques, the first full account of the brilliant Israeli campaign which drove the Egyptian Army out of the Sinai Peninsula in five short days late in 1956, is published.

"Investors' Road Map", by Alice B. Morgan, provides people everywhere, regardless of income, with a sound basis of knowledge and know-how so that they may derive the full benefits of the American free-enterprise system. Her simple, careful and occasionally salty advice covers all phases of investing, and, if applied, offers the basis for a personal investment program for everybody that is sound and rewarding.

The life story of the most famous living English political cartoonist, David Low, is told in "Low's Autobiography". It is also a record of the great men and the zany men who have made headlines and cartoons over the last half-century. Low knew them all, and drew them all. With some of them he quarreled, and this book is the story of many rows.

"Keep Listening", by Frances Warfield, is the story of a courageous woman who was one of 15,000,000 hard-of-hearing Americans. She tells of how she tried lip reading and various types of hearing aids, then underwent two different types of operations. Her hearing is now normal.

"Lincoln's Commando" by Ralph J. Roske and Charles Van Doren, is a biography of William Barker Cushing, U.S.N., drawn from his letters and contemporary records. From his entrance into Annapolis at fifteen (as a naval cadet), through his appointment as Commander at thirty-one, to his death at thirty-two, William Cushing's life was an extraordinarily adventurous and heroic one.

For those who have enjoyed one of the most popular family sagas of modern time, the story of Jalna's wonder Whiteoak clan, the autobiography of Mazo de la Roche, "Ringing the Changes" will be interesting reading.

A captivating new book, "My Family and Other Animals", by Gerald Durrell, one of the most popular naturalist writers of our time, is an account of five years spent with his family on the island of Corfu. Written in his most humorous vein, it is a happy combination of information and entertainment.

GROSSMAN TRUCKS WIN AWARDS

More than a million miles of safe travel in 1956 by the drivers of the big truck fleet of L. Grossman Sons, New Englandwide building materials concern, brought two national first prizes this week to the fleet and the company's safety program director, Herbert P. Bearak.

Mr. Bearak was notified by the American Trucking Associations, Inc., of Washington, D.C., that judges of the 1956 ATA National Truck Safety Contest had awarded to Grossman's first place in the General Commodities Combination Division for truck fleets which have moved from one to five million miles during the year, as well as first place in the Miscellaneous Fleets Division with annual driving of a half to one million miles.

It was the first time since Grossman's inaugurated its safety program in 1953 that the company had earned the top award in the General Commodities Division. It was the second time the fleet, which is constantly on the move from Maine to Connecticut, has earned the Miscellaneous Fleets first

As My Garden Sleeps

By Mari Gold

The gardening fever will be getting into full swing now that May has arrived. Be sure to take it easy, do just a little each day until you have gotten those unused muscles limbered up. This way, the gardening will not seem like such a difficult task and you will enjoy it more. Also be sure to have the correct tools for each task. To keep up the appearance of your garden, an edger is much easier to use than a knife or hatchet and will do a much better job. With this instrument, edging will take only a few minutes, with a knife or hatchet, it will take you half a day.

Weed killers used on walks and drives while the weeds are young will prevent a great deal of damage and hard work later. One way to repair the edges of the lawn along the drive which have been damaged by automobile tires is: Cut a square or oblong piece of the sod, turn it around and reset it so that the neat edge will be on the outside. Fill in around the ragged part with a mixture of soil, humus and plant food. Tramp lightly and reseed with a sprinkling of grass seed.

Touch up and repair fences, arbors and trellises before the vines put forth their leaves. The job is tedious enough without trying to compete with the foliage.

The Iris is one of our most popular perennials and will go along for many years, causing no trouble. Borers may suddenly get into the rhizomes and have results. First indication is moth eaten leaves. The fat pink crab or caterpillar is traveling through the foliage and into the rhizomes, which will be destroyed. Borers may be cut out, but in cases some are missed and eggs will be laid in the fall. The cycle will start again. Control is simple: Remove and burn old leaves in the fall, when growth begins in April, spray weekly with D.D.T. Three treatments should be sufficient.

The Dandelion will soon be in bloom and will spoil the looks of the nice green lawn. Cutting the tops off the Dandelion is a rather foolish practice unless it is repeated every two weeks. The root of this plant is sometimes 18 inches long and stores up enough food to send out several new shoots after each cutting. This is why, if cutting isn't done repeatedly, several plants will grow in the place of one. It is much wiser to purchase one of the new weed controllers, which are harmless to the grass.

The beds for flowers and the vegetable garden should be spaded or plowed far enough in advance to allow time for adequate settling.

If fertilizing or soil improvement is needed it should be done when the ground is spaded. After the settling period, the surface should be thoroughly raked to pulverize the top two inches of soil and level it off for your seed bed.

One garden which has become quite extinct is the "herb garden" of grandmother's time. The herbs made pretty plants as well as seasoning for cooking. They also made nice house plants. Anise is a native of Egypt, its flowering dates back to the period B. C. when Romans used its seeds to spice cakes. It is a delicate fern like leaf with yellow or white flowers. Sweet Basil has a clove like flavor and lavender flowers. In the Orient Basil still is held as sacred. It is a holy herb of the Hindu and is grown to ward off evil.

Parsley is familiar to all and everyone admires the touch of decoration parsley adds to food. How many realize that the classic Greeks regarded this plant so highly, it was used to make the wreath awarded the victor at the Isthmian Games?

Lavender was a must in the herb garden as was Rosemary. These two are the finest of fragrant herbs. At one time, Rosemary was very highly regarded for its efficiency in warding off infection. It was dried and burned as incense as its scent was most agreeable and lasting.

The foregoing are just a few of the herbs which were grown by our grandmothers. An herb garden in the old days was simply a must. One needed dill for pickles, chives for salad and sage to be used in cheese and poultry dressing. Sage tea was also a well known remedy for various ailments.

I almost forgot to include one of the most important herbs (to a well loved member of the family) Catnip, a low growing plant with spikes of blue flowers that bloomed from May until September was commonly grown for the family cat.

Don't become too over zealous because of a few warm days. Many fine plants have been lost this way. Don't set your house plants even on the porch until the weather is definitely settled.

WILMINGTON FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Hi - Lites

In 1915 the Fire Chief again tried to get motorized fire engines for the protection of the townspeople and their properties, & again the town voted to form a committee to look into the matter and report back at a future meeting.

The telephone company changed the location of their central office so the Fire Department had to install a new line of wire from the town hall to the new office for the fire alarm transmitter box. The cost of this new line was around 300.00 dollars.

The Fire Chief also reported that the horse drawn Fire Engines were again overhauled and put into good order.

There were 51 calls for fires that year which were broken down to 12 building fires, 3 chimney fires, 27 brush fires, and 1 out of town call.

Last week we mentioned the clean up, paint up, fix up campaign. To go along with the same line of thought I would like to suggest that everyone get down in your cellars, up in your attics, and in your storage rooms and closets, and look around for old rags, newspapers, cardboard boxes, flammable liquids, etc. Pay attention underneath stairways and in the corners of your storage closets. In these places the newspapers rags, etc. seem to pile up before you realize it. Check all your lamp cords, extension cords and visible electrical wires. Make sure that they are not frayed or over loaded. All of these things are taken for granted by most of us, but sooner or later disaster will strike when least expected. In the question and answer book of the motor vehicles laws one of the questions asked is, When and under what conditions do most accidents occur? The answer given is, When least expected due to lack of attention. The same things applies to fires. They occur when least expected due to lack of attention, carelessness, and taking these things for granted. So let's all look around and get rid of all our fire hazards in our homes by cleaning up, fixing up, and painting up. Thank you.

See you next week,
Your friendly fire fighter.

WILMINGTON ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary club was held last Wednesday at noon, at the Masonic Hall, with President Herbert Pickering in charge.

After the usual opening ceremonies, and the Invocation which was given by Rev. Stanley Cummings, the group sat down to a meat loaf dinner.

After the luncheon the president introduced two guests from Woburn. Herbert Pickering introduced his guest Huck Stevens, Dr. Chernoff introduced his guest Roy Harnish, and Fred Cain introduced Tony Lopez, Ray Anderson, and Al London.

The president turned the meeting over to Henry Foster, who in turn introduced the guest speakers of the day, Mrs. Carolyn Nunes, and William Floyd. These two people represented the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., and their subject was, "The men on your line." Mrs. Nunes spoke on the different type voices heard over the telephones, and Mr. Floyd played back on a tape recorder samples of different voices heard on telephones. Mrs. Nunes mentioned a fact that was very important that we pay attention to the way we speak over the telephone, as many times speaking correctly means added business, or a continued friendship. After her talk she had the members of the club speak so that their voices could be recorded and then she played them back. It was very interesting and amusing to hear the playback.

Henry Foster spoke on the coming ladies night, and mentioned that a good evening is anticipated, including several well known acts of entertainment.

THE BANK IN YOUR COMMUNITY
 This column is written as a public service to the readers of this weekly newspaper in an effort to answer some of the questions the Massachusetts Bankers Association receives about banks and bank procedure.

Among the services your community bank performs is that it creates a medium of exchange. The practice of issuing checks for the payment of bills and debts now is almost universal among business and individuals.
 Not only is it easy and certainly convenient to pay by check, but the cancelled check gives you a legal record of payment of the bill or debt.
 The checking account function is, as we know, most important in our daily lives. Over 90 billion dollars or 20 times the money in circulation is represented by checks.
 One of the questions the Massachusetts Bankers Association receives in great numbers in who can own a checking account. Anyone can own a checking account. Another question received is how much can a check be drawn for? Any amount, provided you have the funds on deposit to cover the amount.

The question of why have a checking account is answered by the word safety. It is a safe, convenient method of paying bills or other obligations. The check can be mailed, unlike cash, and, of course, safely, for if you lose or make a mistake on your check you can stop payment.
 In order to safeguard you from possible error, your check goes through 28 definite operations. From the time you draw your check, until it is returned to you at the end of the month, in your statement, the check has gone through these 28 operations.

Of course, activity charge is assessed to defray the expense of handling this work. To draw a check, actually, is simple, but here are a few tips that might help you and, in turn, aid your bank in processing your account.
 Always make out the stub first. It not only assures you of a proper record of your payments, but if you make an error, it can be corrected before you start the check.
 Number your check and date your check. Fill out the name of the person or firm to whom the money is going. Make the numerical amount of the check clear. Remember the written amount is the figure that governs, in case there is any question as to the amount.

 Be sure to sign your check.

(Mrs. A. M., Watonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age" was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!")

 Science offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionallycaused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this remarkable home treatment

 Relief for 8 out of 10 Tested!
 Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Awful hot flashes subsided. Here's why.
 Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines...acts directly on the cause of these troubles...works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many.

 Clinical tests prove this.
 Now this amazing formula is at drugstores without prescription.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSO. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

"Our older adult population is the biggest seed-bed for the spread of Tuberculosis today. The incidence in the older group is 20 times greater than among younger adults" emphasized Dr. Kenneth T. Bird at the annual meeting of the Middlesex Health association, held Tuesday night, at the Waltham Field Sta., of the University of Massachusetts. In his "Forward Look" address, Dr. Bird, instructor in medicine at Tufts and Harvard Universities and medical consultant at the Middlesex County Sanatorium stressed the need for increased research for ways to prevent, find and treat Americans with tuberculosis.

Dr. Kenneth Bird, Speaker at Middlesex Health Association Annual Meeting.

"Christmas Seal funds," continued Dr. Bird, "should be flooded into medical schools and laboratories to support research for new cures, improved tuberculin testing methods and better techniques to reach older age groups."

More than a hundred members and friends of the association attended the annual meeting presided over by Allister F. MacDougall, president. Rev. Stanley Cummings of Wilms, delivered the invocation prior to the dinner meeting. Entertainment was provided by the Belmont Men's Chorus.

Representing the Billerica Tuberculosis committee were Mrs. John Cochrane, member of the executive committee of the association and Mrs. Maurice Bent, local chairman.

Hi!

The crack of the bat - and it's a towering flyball toward the right field bleachers - it's over the fence for another homer for Ted Williams and the Red Sox take the lead 4 - 3.

Yes, that's what you'll be hearing for the next five months now that the baseball season is officially here and enthusiasts nation wide are beginning to hop aboard the ball wagon as the '57 season swings into action. The moment has come when every man, woman and child is glued to the TV set or radio and the mad race for the sports page is on. At what other time of the year are mothers trying to find their family to call them for dinner (any other time they'd be under her feet haunting the refrigerator) and also at what time are meals eaten in absolute silence (everyone is anxiously awaiting the final scores). The pictures of basketball heroes are being removed from the scene and the smiling faces of baseball greats take the place of honor.

Basketballs and uniforms are hidden in the recesses of the closet, while bats, balls and gloves are inspected and put into instant use. For the first time all the gyms are deserted, while the attention is focused on the out-of-doors.

Game goes live on a well balanced meal of hot dogs, frappes, chocolate covered ice creams, dreamsicles and cheeseburgers.

It's a glorious time for young and old, anxiously awaiting the call of those two magic words - PLAY BALL!

Two female baseball enthusiasts are wonderful Rita Burke and Barbie Rounds, who were on hand to see the opening game of the Red Sox in Boston.

Picture of the Month:

An enchanting and gay musical, Funny Face, starring Academy Award winner Audrey Hepburn and dance - actor, Fred Astaire is our choice for the movie of the month. The picture is filmed in gay Paris in the spring. Fred Astaire assumes the role of a carefree photographer who with the assistance of fashion magazine editor Kay Thompson, transforms Audrey from a clerk into a model. In many sequences the cameras take YOU behind the scenes to see how fashions are photographed for magazines. It also offers tours of such famous landmarks as the Eiffel Tower and the Champs Elysees. The team of Hepburn and Astaire, brought together for their first screen appearance make an unbeatable pair who trip the life fantastic making Funny Face the gay and romantic film that will keep YOU remembering it for a long time.

2. Pat Boone's first release "Bernadine", the title song of which is fastly becoming another record hit for Pat. Pat plays a school boy in the film and is supported by a fine teen cast.

3. Harry Belafonte's movie entitled "Island in the Sun", which was a novel written by Alec Waugh, is filmed in the British West Indies and also stars James Mason, Joan Fontaine and Joan Collins. Harry has written a couple of songs for the movie, which he gets to sing too, but he plays a "straight" role in the film.

All About Discs:

Since the singing career success of Tab Hunter, Dot records is now preparing an entire album for the blond movie actor. Tabs "First Love" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore" are doing well on the market.

Pat Boone's "Bernadine" should be as much of a success as his previous recordings. Climbing high on the platter ladder are: Johnny platter ladder are: Johnny Say, Jimmy Dorsey's "So Rare", Tony Bennett's "One For My Baby and One More For The Road."

Charlie Gracie, the "Butterfly Boy" and "Pum Pa Lum" Steve Lawrence each have recorded "Tabulous", and it will be interesting to see which one will branch out for the hit. Tommy Sand's "My Love Song" should prove as popular as his "Teenage Crush." Many think that Sands sounds like Elvis and imitates him, supposedly making them rivals. Actually it was Elvis who gave Sands, an intimate friend, the "breaks" and got him started in the record business.

Calypso Wise: "Fat Charlie", "Mama Look at Bub" and "Calypso Melody".

A newcomer to the record business, Marthy Robbins, recorded "White Sports Coat", but the cover record by Johnny Desmond is becoming more popular.

A real cute tune: "My Big Brother Friend".

Ballads beautiful: Terry Brewer's "Empty Arms", Bonnie Guitar's "Dark Moon", "Queen of the Senior Prom."

Fashion Footnotes:

The Madras print will be big news this year in the fashion world with ensembles of shirts, blouses, bathing suits, shorts, blazers. Keith will read: "The Guns of Fort Petticoat" with Audie Murphy and "Shadow at the window."

For all Walt Disney lovers the Strand will feature "Westward Ho the Wagons" and "Disneyland U. S. A."

Bermuda and Jamaica shorts still occupy most of the sportswear limelight. White, light canvas type material will be another rage in materials for pedal pushers, bermies and shorts.

Skirts will be pinwheel type with lace and flowery trims on the matching blouses.

Dyed to match co-ordinates of a straight skirt, sleeveless blouse and cardigan sweater will also be popular.

"May Day is Lei Day in Hawaii."

I don't know why this is stressed paticularly, since any day is Lei Day there.

Everyone that arrives via plane or ship receives from one to twenty leis - and the same is true on departure. "Aloha", means either welcome or farewell.

But to get back to COLD New England facts - May Day means many things.

It used to mean that you hung May baskets especially to your best girl, or boy and then ran before he or she could get to the door.

It means Senior Proms, last days of school, cutting the lawn, planting pansies, getting the screens on, and generally getting the house ready for the summer.

Of course, there are three things that should be done.

First: Have your oil burner overhauled, and cleaned, and have your oil tank filled for the summer.

Second: Make arrangements for your next year Holiday Skip plan of oil payment so that while you are enjoying your summer to the utmost we can figure your payments and get your budget envelopes to you early.

Third: If you suspect that there is anything about your heating system that needs attention, this is the time to discuss it with us and arrange to have it taken care of now so that you will be ready for the next season.

Call us at REading 2-3290 and we will be glad to help.

A decade of military unification under the Department of Defense will be observed 18 May 1957, Armed Forces Day. Exemplifying this is the above gathering of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in a conference room at the Pentagon Building. From the left are: Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, Chief of Naval Operations; General Nathan F. Twining, Chief of Staff, USAF; Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; General Maxwell D. TORNADO WARNING in time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station at Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. The twin funnels are an unusual phenomenon—most tornadoes occur singly. (Courtesy A. Leydenfrost)

LOWER EARNINGS FOR JOHNS - MANVILLE

Johns-Manville paid out $31,851,402 in payrolls and employee benefits during the first quarter this year, according to V.B. Padham, Plant Manager. Last year for the same period the figure was $29,460,076.

Although sales for the first quarter were up to $65,654,473, as compared with $64,674,506 for the first quarter last year, consolidated earnings were off from $4,110,948 for the first quarter last year to $2,953,554 for the same period this year.

"Although our sales volume exceeded that of last year ago," Mr. Padham said, "There was an unusual seasonal decline in sales of some products. This factor, together with increased costs of doing business, resulted in lower earnings for this quarter."

CHURCH CONFERENCE TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 8 AT 7:45 P.M.

The all church conference of the Wilmington Methodist Church which was scheduled for Monday evening, April 29 has been postponed until Wednesday evening, May 8 at 7:45 p.m. The postponement was due to necessary adjustments in the bids for the new church. The members of the church 18 years of age and older will act upon the recommendations of the Building Planning Committee and authorize the trustees to sign for the contract for the new structure.

It is hoped that each family of the church will be represented if it is impossible for both adults to be present. The meeting will adjourn promptly at 9:30 p.m.

NATIONAL FAMILY WEEK BEGINS WITH FAMILY COMMUNION SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH, SUNDAY, MAY 5

Each year the first week in May is designated as National Family Week and members and friends of the Methodist Church will observe the week with a family communion service to be held at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. worship services. It will be a service where husband and wife will have an opportunity to kneel at the altar and receive the elements of holy communion. Families having young people in the sixth grade through high school have been invited to worship as family units at the 9:15 service enabling the young to attend church school at 11 a.m.

Copies of the magazine "The Christian Home" will be available to families at the conclusion of each service of worship.

Ways have been found to make lumber, man's most popular building material for centuries, even stronger and more versatile. A laminated wood beam, for example, has greater strength and flexibility than a solid member of the same size, grade and species, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The added strength results from the fact that in the gluing together of several small wood pieces to make one large laminated unit, there is a dispersion of knots and similar growth characteristics. Also, tests have shown that the glue lines in a laminated member will withstand at least as much punishment as the wood itself.

Laminated beams, left exposed, have gained tremendously in popularity in recent years for churches and other buildings where esthetics are an important consideration.

SELECTMEN'S NEWS

Where horses and gravel occupied much of the attention of the Board of Selection of the board of selectmen at their meeting last week, shooting, light bulbs, culverts and gravel received due consideration on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimitri McKaba of 480 Woburn St. appeared before the Board to protest the skeet shoots held at Smith's Gravel Pit on Woburn St. Mr. and Mrs. McKaba objected to the noise of the constant shooting at the meet, sponsored by the Stag Club of Reading, and held on Sunday. Upon investigation, Chairman DeFelice found that the original permission for the skeet shoots was issued on Jan. 30, 1956. The applicants are required to obtain a permit for the shoot from the Chief of Police each week that it is to be held. The Board felt that the only proper action was to notify the Chief to issue no more permits.

Two other residents of town who presented their problem to the Board Monday were the Ouellette brothers, Alfred and Francis of Westdale Ave. Their homes, next to each other, are situated at the end of Westdale Ave., next to the railroad. Water from a large section of this end of town is channeled, by the natural contour of the land, and a culvert built under Lowell St. between Woburn and West St., so that it flows behind the Ouellette houses to a culvert under the RR track. For years, the brothers told the Board, they have tried to fill their property, only to have it washed away repeatedly. They also have a large ditch to take care of the water. The brothers were prepared to take the matter to the State if the Town was unable to help them.

Town Manager Courtney suggested that, due to the building of Rte. 28, the condition might be rectified as the work proceeded through this area. He further suggests that the Town send letters to the B. and M., to the Mass. Dept. of Utilities, and to the design engineer of Rte. 28 to obtain as much information as possible to expediate a final course of action.

Another problem involving shooting was dramatically brought before the Board when Mrs. Wavie Drew placed upon the table three light bulbs which had been replaced recently. All bore bullet holes. Complaints have been received of late about the slowness of the Reading Light Co. in replacing burned out bulbs. Mrs. Drew did a little investigating of her own and found that since Feb. 1 a total of 132 burned out bulbs had been replaced, and that in the same period, 193 broken or shot out bulbs had needed replacement.

A motion was made and passed to inform the Senators and Representatives of the district that the Board supports Gov. Furcolo's sales tax and tax rate limit bill.

The Chairman of the Cemetery Trustees will assume the post of Veterans' Grave Officer in the future. The position involves the care and upkeep of the graves, the crosses and the flags.

Mr. Courtney reported that he had received complaints about an unaccepted, unpaved section of Pinewood Rd. Mr. Courtney suggested that the planning board be asked to investigate abolishing that section of the road.

The Town Manager also read a report on Highway Dept. progress. The street sweeper is expected to start work on the roads next week. Street signs are being replaced and when this is finished it is hoped that dead end streets can be marked.

The following licenses were issued: VFW Poppy Drive, May 24 and 25; Cavanaugh's Taxi, two renewals; Michael Castellano, two taxis, renewal; Sophie Castellano, one taxi, renewal; Sunday license renewals, Tattersalls, Rowells Mkt. and the Food Mart.

The Board went into executive session at 10:45 to discuss gravel regulations. The meeting adjourned at 11:45.

An aerial pioneer and enthusiastic proponent of aviation for the Military Services following the adoption of "flying machines" by the Army in 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt is shown preparing for a flight at Kinloch Park, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11, 1911. On Armed Forces Day, 18 May 1957, the Services observe the fiftieth anniversary of military aviation and honor the 100th anniversary of the birth of President Roosevelt.

Tiled Magic

Space is usually at a premium in a small apartment, especially those without a separate dining room. Here you have a dining table which is low enough to serve as a cocktail table between meals and for casual entertaining. The table stands only 25 inches high and the chairs are scaled for easy comfort when used with it.

The beautiful natural grain of the walnut is accented with ceramic tile insets—dramatically chalk white—placed conveniently to act as coasters for glasses. There is enough space between the tiles for place mats for a dinner service. White tips on the legs of the table further accent the warm tones of the wood.

The tile insets are a new design expression which is being used for decorating lamp and end tables and desks as well. In this case, design and function join hands to create an unusually practical and handsome effect. (Founders Furniture Co.)
